LAST MONTH

SPRINTS: 13th & 14th April

Although entries were lower than the same events in 2012, a good number of competitors drove in the first rounds of the 2013 Guyson Scottish Sprint Championship. The weather was best on the Saturday, and several track class records were broken on both days. Fastest time of the day on Saturday went to Louise Anne Calder from Caithness in her Jedi, whilst on Sunday the honours went to EACC member John Mackenzie in his Radical Prosport.

FLYING SCOTSMAN RALLY: 21st April

89 cars left Carlisle on the last leg of this popular historic rally which is organised by the Endurance Rally Association.

The cars then passed through Kames on the way to their final destination at the Gleneagles Hotel. Many of the crews enjoyed “pushing” their cars on the challenging sprint and rally roads at Kames. Fastest round Kames and the overall event winners were Gareth Burnett and Jeremy Haylock, in their pea green Talbot 105 Alpine.

TEST DAYS: 28th April

As always, Sunday’s test day was well attended and enjoyed by all, despite the winter weather ...!

GRASSTEST: 28th April

The first of the year’s grasstests also got underway at the popular Pinwherry grass track.
