In our rush to go away on holiday in April, our first edition of the season seems to have gone astray, so we are sending it out with this second issue. We hope to get a bit more up to date once the heavy July calendar has been taken care of.

Fortunately rain did stay away from Muirkirk except for Sunday practice, but it was still on the cold side for the opening sprint weekend of the season. With many of the more fancied runners falling by the wayside, young Louise Calder took the first FTD of the weekend in her one litre Jedi Mk1. Runner-up was Les Mutch. Only one tenth of a second ahead of John Mackenzie.

Sunday:

Heavy rain was forecast for the morning with dry/sunny afternoon, and the met boys got it right in this occasion.
