LIVELY START TO SPRINT SEASON But weather spoils Sunday runs

There was an excellent entry for the opening sprints of the season on April 12th and 13th at Kames with drivers coming from as far away as Thurso and the North of England. The weather on Saturday was dry but cold and windy which did not upset competitors too much, although some felt their cars slower than usual against the headwind.

Young Louise Calder took FTD in her Jedi from her co-driver, dad Colin who two weeks earlier had made a good start to his defence of the British Sprint title at castle Combe in Wiltshire.

Next day the weather started the same but half way through the first runs it started to rain and gradually got worse. This played havoc with the form book, leaving the cars at the tail of the field at a great disadvantage, but providing Les Mutch with an untouchable advantage in his Dax Rush.
