EACC MAY RALLY TIME TRIAL MAY 6th

For the second of the Club's four rally Time Trials, the weather remained dry but a bit on the cold side. Failures on the Ingliston rally the previous day caused one or two cars being withdrawn but there were still sufficient competitors to provide spectators with some lively spectacle. George Bryson laid out three stages, the last of which looked a bit on the tight side for the bigger cars, and each was run four times with the best three times to count.

The local experience of Blair McCulloch and Gordon Alexander proved beneficial and the pair opened a gap on the other two-man crews. Blair, however had the edge and ran out winner by 21.1 seconds. Of the one-man crews Colin Gemmell built up a 68 seconds lead with Jordan Black second.
